c. Stated that he had offered a briefing on CIA to the members and the Executive Officer of the Special Committee on Government Organizations. The Director went on to say that, in his opinion, such a briefing was essential in order that the committee would not cross any wires or leave us out in making recommendations to the President. General Smith stated that this briefing should be about an hour's duration and should cover (1) the scope and magnitude of our activities; (2) our "far-flung" and "complex" political and psychological operations; (3) our opinion of the functions of PSB. After some discussion, the Director (1) called the Executive Officer of this committee and suggested that this briefing be held in the Conference Room in the Administration Building (the date and time to be determined later); (2) asked DD/P to have the appropriate people in his office prepared to give this briefing; (3) stated it would not be necessary to cover secret operations, however, he himself would touch on this subject.

Mr. Dulles:

Referred to a cable from [redacted] regarding the disappearance of [redacted] recommendation that consideration be given to a policy which would prohibit commanders and others who have broad knowledge of plans from making flights over enemy territory.
